Mentorship Cadence Canon

Sheila Stokes' mentorship operating manual

Author	Sheila Stokes, Senior Network Planning Engineer
Date	2026-07-08
Version	v2
Scope	Informal mentorship network of women in Nigerian telecom engineering
Linked confluence	pg_mentorship_canon

1. Mentorship roster

Yetunde Bakare bi-weekly, plus an informal network of around 8 younger women engineers in Nigerian telecom. The pages below set out cadence, agenda, growth areas, and the time I hold for it against the engineering load.

2. Cadence

Closest relationship: Yetunde Bakare, bi-weekly 60 min, Cafe Cherie Maitama, every other Tuesday 14:00. Monthly group: Aisha Mohammed, Funmi Adesanya, Ngozi Eze, Tola Okonkwo, Amaka Ifeancha - 45 min, third Tuesday afternoon, mix of in-person and video. Quarterly check-ins: Bilkisu Yahaya, Chiamaka Onuoha - 60 min, in-person where geography allows.

3. Session agenda

Same 4 blocks every time: (a) 10 min - how are you, family, energy; (b) 20-30 min - their topic; (c) 10-15 min - one thing I want to push on; (d) 5 min - actions, next session. Predictable so they prep, I prep.

4. Growth areas

Running list per mentee, updated after each session. Technical depth, technical breadth, regulatory awareness, vendor dynamics, stakeholder management, exec comms, conference and publication ambition, promotion readiness, life-work balance. Not every area is open with every mentee.

5. Promotion readiness

Within 12 months of a promo cycle: schedule a 90 min deep dive. Current performance vs the next level, gaps, visibility plan inside their employer, interview/panel prep, backup if the cycle doesn't go through. Yetunde is on Senior 2027 - her review is Q1 2027.

6. Conference and publication support

Abstracts: 3-day turnaround. Full papers: 1-week. Intros to organisers where I know them. Yetunde's Q4 abstract for Nigeria ComTech Summit is due Oct 12 - reviewed Sep 30, feedback Oct 1, final Oct 12.

7. Protected time

Mentorship time is held against everything except P0 emergencies. Yetunde Tuesday 14:00 slot is the firmest. Cancel = 24h notice + same-week reschedule. Monthly: within 1 week of the slot. Quarterly: flexible but never skipped without re-committing to the next cycle.

8. Closing the loop

Each session closes with the next-session commitment and any actions. notion page per mentee (pg_mentorship_yetunde etc.) with session-by-session notes. Private to the two of us unless they ask to share.
